Summary of reasons for decision:

The image file depicts a highly sexualised image of a naked young man. The Classification Office has considered whether the subject presents as a young person in terms of s3(2)(a) of the Films, Videos, and Publications Classification Act 1993. While some aspects of their appearance are youthful they do not unequivocally present as a young person to a degree sufficient to meet the high threshold required by this criterion. While they might well be a young person they could equally be a young adult. In the absence of additional elements to encourage the viewer to regard them as a young person it would be unreasonable to conclude that the image promotes or supports, or tends to promote or support, the exploitation of young persons for sexual purposes. However, the unrestricted availability of the image is still likely to be injurious to the public good. Society perceives harm to children and teenagers from being exposed to such explicitly sexualised nudity before they are developmentally ready to process it. Therefore the image is restricted to adults. The classification interferes with the right to freedom of expression contained in the New Zealand Bill of Rights Act 1990 but is reasonable and justified in order to prevent injury to the public good.
